

Every time I am angry, I will form into a dangerous, swirly air that is going to unleash its power and destroy all the things around me. I am very menacing that even the lightning will stop and be terrified. Everyone will be leaving their home or wherever they are and will be sprinting as fast as a cheetah.

I will be slowly sucking everything up from the ground and I will be demolishing them, then the humans will have nothing. People will be screaming for their lives and shouting, 'HEELPP!!!!'. And after they see what I have done, they will be in tears; they will have nowhere to live or they will have no vehicle to go anywhere.

No-one is able to defeat me or hurt me. I am the king of the sky and I will never die! Well, I guess now is the time to dwindle back to the clouds and relax because my time is up, but remember I WILL be back every single day. "HA HA HA"! I mentioned immortality.
