

Happiness is...

Always secretly hidden inside you, you just need to find where it's hiding,

The first main steps of life, everyone has happiness, from day one,

All about people around you, be grateful and put on a jovial mood around them,

When you form a gentle smile on your face, smiling is one of the stages of happiness,

Simple, we all have it in us, we require to express it out,

An unprofessional job that you do every day, the only difference is, you're not hired to be happy, you were made to be happy.
