

How was perfume created?

I think they used the candle so the the oil could melt and then they crushed the ice cubes with the sticks so that they could use the ice to put in the cup. And then with the orange peel they could rub the cubes with the orange peel which would scent the cubes into a more nicer smell. so then after they will mix the ingredients together and then could put the ingredients through a bent wooden tube to stop preventing a mess and with a cork you could bottle the ingredients. Then after decorate the bottle using the string and some fabric.
