

My Lockdown Diary

Dear Diary,

During Lockdown, I feel sadness because I can't go to my cousins' houses or go out. Also, it's kind of good so people can't get Corona and because of social distancing.

After lockdown 1, restrictions had slowly been lifted. I was going to my cousins houses to visit. I really enjoyed playing with my cousins; seeing my cousins made me feel happy and joyful.

However, when I came back from each visit, I was doing my homework. I felt kind of bored then I played Roblox on the computer with my brother and friends. So most days, my mum would call me to go eat rice with chicken for example and after that I would go to bed.

After the end of the first lockdown, I felt optimism because the lockdown was over. It meant I could finally see my cousins. It was like the best day of my life. I went out and got fresh air, went out to eat and went to my dad's dad (granddad's) house where we were having so much fun.

But as I sit here writing this entry, you'll never believe it... We are actually living through another dreaded lockdown! My hopes are that this lockdown ends soon.

Bye for now,
